

Morgan Buyse

Counselor, Connected Camps

Morgan Buyse is a junior at St. Edward's University in Austin, TX, majoring in Entrepreneurship. Morgan's favorite part about working at Connected Camps is that she helps students explore their interests through a video game they love. In her spare time, she enjoys building gigantic structures in Minecraft and practicing her Graphic Design skills.

Sebastian Carbajal

Counselor, Connected Camps

Sebastian Carbajal is a second-year student at the University of California, Irvine, majoring in Game Design & Interactive Media. One of his favorite things to do at Connected Camps is design dungeons and challenges for his campers to undertake in some of his clubs, which ties in with his hopes of becoming a Game Designer. In his free time he enjoys watching films, drawing, and playing video games.

David Henry

Counselor, Connected Camps

David Henry, is a junior at the College of Saint Rose, in Albany, NY, majoring in criminal justice and minoring in sociology. He loves working with Connected Camps, because it allows him to be a mentor and pass on knowledge to the next generation. David enjoys providing interactive events, that promote cooperation and team building and teaching Connected Camps astronomy and history courses.

Seneca Phillips-McGraw

Counselor, Connected Camps

Seneca Phillips-McGraw is a sophomore BFA Theatre Design and Technology student at West Virginia University. She spends time fostering a love of learning at Connected Camps, teaching programs like Engineering, Ancient History, Theatre, Game Design, and many others. In her free time, Seneca enjoys hiking, playing and writing music, and spending time with her cat.